Extra Learning Support Fee

Extra Learning Support includes English as an Additional Language and support for students who have learning barriers. The school principal, admissions and student success team reserves the right to decide, after observations, teacher feedback and/or assessment testing, whether the child will need to participate in the Extra Learning Support program.

1. English as an Additional Language (EAL)

This program aims to assist students to develop their English language skills so as to access the full curriculum. Students are assessed and placed in appropriate additional or parallel classes to the main stream English classes. There are up to 5 levels, from 1 being the weakest. Phase 1 and 2 students will be required to receive EAL support. As students progress they will be moved to a higher level class when appropriate. These are small classes where students will receive individual attention to support their English Language development.

2. Learning Support (LS)

This program is individualized for each student and built around details provided by observations, teacher feedback and assessment, both internal within the school and if seen as necessary, using an external assessment educational expert. This data helps the school to develop an individualized Educational Program (IEP) or a Student Success Plan (SSP) which is built collaboratively through meetings with parents, students, the internal school success team, and, if required, input from external specialists. Within this program students receive additional 1 to 1 support for 6 periods per week and close monitoring of progress throughout the year.

If the student success team determines that a student will need a full-time individual learning support coach or outside consultant report, the fee will not be included in the Extra Learning Support program and will require an additional cost. Learning coaches are paid privately by families and can be found and hired through HIS. The school will give assistance and guidance for hiring outside support staff, outside consultant assessment reports and any ongoing additional external support. The fees for Extra Learning Support are as follows (in VND):

	Fee by Year	Fee by Semester	Fee by Quarter
EAL	67,200,000	33,600,000	16,800,000
Learning Support	177,600,000	88,800,000	44,400,000

After a child is placed in the program in either EAL or LS, payment is due within two weeks of the invoice being received. Students who start midway through a school quarter will be required to pay the full quarterly amount for support services. Refunds for the Extra Learning Support program will only be made for a full quarter of non-participation. If a student withdraws from the program or no longer needs support services, decisions on fee refunds will be determined by the support team and the school on a case-by-case basis.
